Excerpt: . . . species feeds on various kinds of seeds, nuts and fruit, and upon the approach of cold weather it has been observed to make holes in decayed trees, and therein deposit a quantity of seed, doubtless as a provision in case of necessity during the wintertime for this species remains in the woods of Canada throughout the year and in the coldest periods takes refuge in the cavities that it has made, or other holes in trees. In the winter when the weather is not very cold it is frequently observed abroad searching for food among the trees; at such times it will sometimes visit barns in the vicinity of its haunts; but soon as the demands of hunger are satisfied it again seeks the shelter of its native woods. This bird is also remarkable for the instinct it possesses of fixing a nut in...
