

Adam's Progenitors?: Journey Into the World at the Dawn of Civilization. (Paperback)

By Massimo Giuseppe Franceschini

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . All religions are based on faith, but Christianity far more than others. All religions believe in something divine that is above us, Christianity goes a little bit further. Christianity goes further because it's the only religion that is trying to prove, with tangible evidence, their beliefs. Christ accompanied His preaching with miracles that went beyond human comprehension. He walked on water, commanded the elements, healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, and raised the dead. In short, He preached with something tangible for people to see. Finally, He announced his death and resurrection. If anyone could think of Him as a great magician or illusionist, then that would signify that after he died, he could no longer have an effect on the people of this earth. His own disciples, although they were eyewitnesses of his miracles, were tested; they did not expect His resurrection. After His death, they went back to their jobs and did not expect anything more to happen until the women in the bible story, especially Mary Magdalene, told them the good news...
