Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from War and Christianity From the Russian Point of View: Three Conversations Vladimir Solovyof, the author of this book, is Russia's greatest philosopher and one of the greatest of her poets, a serene and happy writer. He was born in 1853 and died in 1901, that is, he flourished in Russia during the same years that Nietzsche lived in Germany. He was a seeker and also a seer, a thinker and also a singer. His life is not marked by irritability, and it did not culminate in mental and psychic collapse as did the life of Nietzsche. Probably life was easier for a man of genius in Russia than in Germany - there are wider spaces there, more freedom, more tenderness between man and man, less materialism, less selfishness, less to send one mad. Solovyof came from a happy home and of a literary family. His father, Serge Mikhaylovitch Solovyof, was a historian; his mother, a Little Russian of old family and culture, was proud to remind her children of a kinsman who had been a great philosopher in his day. At home there was an atmosphere of real things - never any of the cheap wit and vulgarity and mental meanness that so often sterilise the creative intelligence of otherwise wonderful children.
