Excerpt: . . . the credit of discovering America. He blundered upon it. He expected to strike India. A great many important discoveries would be accredited to persons now unknown, or would have no authors, if the real discoverers were to be held responsible for the minor mistakes through which they passed. Fourth Proposition. This statement could have been made before November, 1887, as appropriately as since. Nothing new bearing on the position Dr. Emmons assigned the various members of the Taconic, has come to light since November. That Dr. Emmons made some mistakes in assigning the various parts of the Taconic to their places, is abundantly proved; but that he only made mistakes, and that every assignment he adopted was only the result of fortunate happening, when found correct, we cannot believe. Even Mr. Walcott would not deny that Emmons put the Granular Quartz correctly on the...
